Hoedown Hill Turns Up the Volume as Northern Colorado's Home for Live Music and Outdoor Entertainment

After three seasons of multi-day music festivals and a free summer concert series, TWVC Hospitality is going all in on what fans love most about Hoedown Hill

WINDSOR, Colo. (Nov. 5, 2026): TWVC Hospitality today announced that Hoedown Hill will focus exclusively on live music and outdoor entertainment. The move builds on three seasons of multi-day music festivals that drew thousands of music fans each night, plus a free summer concert series that kept the hill busy all summer long.

Since its first music festival in 2024, Hoedown Hill has become a place where Northern Colorado comes to listen. Each festival has filled the hill with thousands of music fans every night, and the 2025 edition stretched across two weekends with two nights of rock and two nights of country. Over the years, the festival stage has welcomed Third Eye Blind, Cold War Kids, Plain White T's, Randy Houser, The Band Perry, Chris Lane, Asia featuring John Payne, Steve Augeri (former lead vocalist of Journey), Anna Avery, Dasha and more. This past summer, the free concert series brought neighbors, families and friends out for live music under the Colorado sky.

"Music has always been the heartbeat of Hoedown Hill," said Tyler Lind, CEO of TWVC Hospitality. "Every festival, we've watched thousands of people come together on this hill and have the time of their lives. That's what Hoedown Hill does best, so we're going all in on it. We can't wait to show Northern Colorado what's next."

Going forward, Hoedown Hill will be dedicated to festivals, concerts and outdoor entertainment. Planning for the 2027 season is well underway, with lineup and event announcements to come in the months ahead.

Hoedown Hill will not offer skiing, snowboarding or tubing this winter as the team focuses on its entertainment calendar. Any future winter programming will be announced as plans develop.

"Hoedown Hill has always been about bringing people together for great music, and our fans are the reason those nights feel so big," Lind said. "The best nights at Hoedown Hill are still ahead of us. Get on the list now, because you're going to want to hear about 2027 first."
